Navigating Transitions With The Help Of Others

Alexander Youth Network wants to say thank you! Over the past few weeks, we have been amazed by the continued support of our volunteers and donors, in helping to provide seamless care to our children and vital safety materials items to our staff. Click to read more about these heroes!

Celebrating Our Kids: Building Hope For Years To Come

Together we are learning to navigate our current reality, adjusting to new daily routines and anxiously awaiting the news that will bring hope to the uncertainty around us. This time has been incredibly challenging for Alexander Youth Network, having to adjust programs and services and provide additional support to our children and families including food access, technology, and safety. Read more about how we moved our annual luncheon, Celebrating Our Kids, to this fall.

Staying In Touch: Virtual Volunteers at Alexander

Since March, Alexander Youth Network has had a strict policy in preventing visitors including family and volunteers from coming to campus, thus halting our in-person volunteer activities and reducing the spread of COVID-19. However, our volunteers have gotten creative on how to stay connected to the kids at Alexander. Click to read more!

A Message from Alexander CEO, Craig Bass

As we collectively deal with the impact of COVID-19, we take our role as a behavioral and mental health provider seriously. We recognize how important these services are now more than ever. We want to share an update on the services we provide, and the steps we have taken to maintain the safety of our consumers and our staff. To read more from Craig, please click here.
